OPEN AUDITIONS

BY YAZMIN REZA
DIRECTED BY KASHI JONSON

Casting "God of Carnage," a dark comedic play, which won the Tony Award for Best Play in 2009, dealing with two sets of parents who meet to have a civilized discussion about a schoolyard fight between their sons.

What starts as a cordial evening, ends with the adults acting like children. "God of Carnage" deals with a host of subjects, including parenting, misogyny, racial prejudice, and homophobia.

THE ROLES

Alan Raleigh: (Lead) very successful and high-powered attorney.

Annette Raleigh: (Lead) Alan's wife who works in wealth management.

Michael Novak: (Lead) owner of a wholesale company that sells household goods.

Veronica Novak: (Lead) writer and part-time employee at an art history bookstore.

ALL ETHNICITIES ENCOURAGED TO APPLY

WHEN

AUDITIONS
TUE  8/25/15   4:30 - 6:00 & 6:30 - 9:30
WED  8/26/15   4:30 - 6:00 & 6:30 - 9:30

CALLBACKS
THU  8/27/15   4:30 - 6:00

WHERE
ZOELLNER ARTS CENTER   ROOM 121

BEFORE THE AUDITION

- Please visit the bulletin board outside ZAC 301 for more information about the play, audition and to sign up for a time slot.

- Be prepared to read scenes from the play & work with other actors during your audition.

- If you have questions, contact Kashi Johnson (kjj2@lehigh.edu)